

“American Dream” Final Questions

Answer the following questions in groups using specific references to stories from this unit:

1. Why do parents and children have communication problems?

2. What happens to children of foreign parents who try to assimilate to their new culture?

3. How are traditions often kept alive through generations?

4. What happens to parents of children who try to assimilate to their new culture?

5. How can conflict in situations related to communication be solved?

Answer the following question by yourself. Use specific references to the unit to back up your answer:

What would you name this unit? Why?