

URL Diary—Grant

http://www.esa.int/esaKIDSen/SEMSZ5WJD1E_OurUniverse_0.html

European Space Agency (ESA) site for kids. Covers the Big Bang, and the birth of galaxies.

http://www.teach-nology.com/web_tools/materials/timelines/

Teach-nology—Timeline creator

http://www.kidsastronomy.com/solar_system.htm

Kidsastronomy.com is a very kid-friendly website that goes in depth into each individual planet. Good for facts and statistics.

<http://www.worldalmanacforkids.com/explore/space.html>

Kid friendly and information-filled site about the solar system.

<http://kids.msfc.nasa.gov/SolarSystem/>

NASA for kids—Great site for curricular connections

<http://www.enchantedlearning.com/subjects/Geologictime.html>

Geologic Time Scale—Enchanted Learning—Very helpful, easy to navigate, and understand

http://hubblesite.org/fun_and_games/

Hubble telescope kids site—interactive, interesting links

<http://amazing-space.stsci.edu/resources/explorations/>

Online space explorations-fun!

<http://www.spacepix.net/>

Huge collection of space pictures

<http://www.enchantedlearning.com/subjects/astronomy/>

Amazing collection of every aspect of kid-friendly astronomy in one place.

<http://projects.edtech.sandi.net/king/planets/index.htm>

Webquest that highlights research on a particular planet

http://www.milton.k12.vt.us/WebQuests/LChagnon/solar_system_webquest.htm#People%20Questions

Webquest that highlights research on a particular planet

<http://www.rfsd.k12.wi.us/rocky/staff%20pages/VerBurg/Pages/WebQuest.html>

Webquest that highlights research on a particular planet—good one

<http://gouchercenter.edu/kwess/Short%20Term%20Web%20Quest.htm>

Short-term webquest that highlights research on a particular planet—really good one

<http://www.lewiscenter.org/users/mhuffine/subprojects/Department/OCN/solar.php>

Excellent webquest-easy and short term