MetLife Fellowships Available for NYC Public School Teachers!

MetLife Fellowships of $1,000 each are available to New York City public school teachers who are interested in taking an active role in influencing local, state, and national education policy by becoming a MetLife Fellow in the Teachers Network Leadership Institute (TNLI) for the 2009-10 school year. 10 of these fellowships are reserved for NYC teachers interested in becoming principals.

Teachers selected to become TNLI MetLife Fellows will:

- Increase knowledge of major education issues through online readings and discussions with leading policy experts
- Conduct action research in the classroom
- Improve leadership skills
- Be featured in the media
- Represent teachers nationwide as spokespersons for education policy issues
- Join an influential and supportive network of educators
